Report Session 2022-23

Pratyancha - A Workshop on Effective Pedagogy

A two-days inhouse workshop 'Pratyancha' on Effective Pedagogy was organised by teaching-learning cell in associated with IQAC for the faculty members of senior college on 29th and 30th July 2022 in the college auditorium. The trainers for the workshop were Dr. Arti Golhar, Dr. Megha Bhambri, Dr. Rupali Wanjari, Dr. Ragini Marganwar and Ms. Babita Yadao who were trained by MS-DEED at IISER, Pune during Level 2 workshop, supported by Dr. Damini Motwani, Dr. Pooja Mohobe and Dr. Aavish Patil who had successfully completed Level 1 workshop organised by MS-DEED.

During the inauguration, Dr. Ragini Marganwar introduced the workshop and explained the objectives of MS-DEED. Three sessions were planned for each day. During the sessions the trainers gave in-depth understanding on various tools and techniques of pedagogy which can be implemented to make teaching learning process more effective. Faculty members of Science, Commerce, Management and Humanities participated in the workshop with great enthusiasm. Dr. Zeenat Kashmiri, In-charge of Teaching and Learning committee explained the importance of the workshop. She encouraged the participants for active participation.

On day one, the first session was conducted by Dr. Megha Bhambri on the topic "Psychology of learners and learning". She explained that it's very important to understand the psychology of the learner learning process and learning situation to make the campus student friendly. The second session was conducted by Ms. Babita Yadao on the topic "Active Learning". The objective of the session was to convince and encourage teachers to adopt activity-based learning pedagogies in order to make learning more effective. The third and last session of the first day was conducted by Dr. Arti

Golhar on the topic as Developing effective learning objectives. She talked about the gap between the current and desired education system which is required as per NEP 2020.

On second day, the first session was conducted by Dr. Ragini Marganwar on the topic “Research Based Pedagogical Practices”. She emphasized how a Research Based Pedagogical Tool helps to develop research skill and deep content knowledge. RBPT is a very useful tool which can be used to teach topics for better understanding of the students. The second session was conducted by Dr. Rupali Wanjari on the topic, “Students Centered Teaching and Assessment”. She discussed the issues in the existing assessment approaches and the need for student centric teaching. Edutainment is one of the great techniques of teaching where education can be given by means of entertainment. By considering the same concept in the last session some number game activities, performances on syllabus topics through poem, song, play or act, story etc. were carried out. The activity definitely conveyed that education can be through entertainment also.

Lastly, feedback was taken from all the participants. Principal Dr. V. M. Pendsey congratulated MS-DEED Master trainers for the successful conduction of the workshop ‘Pratayancha’. Vice Principal Dr. S. V. Tewani, Dr. A. G. Thadani, Dr. M. M. Shinkhede, IQAC Coordinator Dr. Y. V. Bhute and Teaching learning committee incharge Dr. Zeenat Kashmiri appreciated the efforts taken by the MS-DEED trainers.

change by attending and learning the Innovative – Effective Teaching approach which will help to contribute to the holistic development of the Higher Education system. Dr. Vishwajit Pendsey encouraged the participants and explain the vision for the program. Dr. Asim Auti introduced the theme, objective, and approach of the workshop.

In the first session, Dr. Asim Auti delivered his talk on “Aap, Mai Aur Hum” by quoting examples to explain that still now the teachers teach students, in the same traditional way but now change is the need of the hour. He made the participants clear that it's time to shift from teacher-centered teaching to student-centered teaching. He summed up the session by saying. “To teach is to touch a life forever”.

Dr. Asim Auti took the next session on “Effective Pedagogy”. He explained that pedagogies are constantly evolving which we need to study. Adhering to NEP 2020 guidelines, learners come first and we should focus on making effective deliverables. Every pedagogy is unique and useful, as long as it connects to measurable outcomes. He explained that we should use technology as a tool and not as a goal. We should learn to adapt and update. He also emphasized the thought that change is always for the good although it might be sometimes painful. He ended his session with the provoking key points that we should think long term, plan short term and teach for self-sustainability.

The third session of the day was engaged by Dr. Manawa Diwekar on “Intended Learning Outcomes”. She covered some of the important topics of teaching like learning outcomes, learning outputs, intended learning outcomes, assessment, significance, and teaching road map. She also made us clear how to make the content of our lecture effective and interesting. She shared tips on how to designan effective classroom. She suggested that we can use contextual stories to makeour classroom more fun-filled. She emphasized inquiry-based teaching.

Session 4, was taken by Dr. Asim Auti on “Assessment I: Purpose”. He briefed“assessment as a part of teaching and learning, assessment and evaluation inteaching, formative and summative assessment, assessment rubrics”. Heelaborated on how assessment is probably the most ignored part of goodteaching, so it is often the most intimidating. He emphasized that the primary goalof a teacher is to help students to develop thinking and achieve desired goals. Healso explained the term “Metacognition” i.e., misconception document in which heguided teachers to search before teaching any topic and develop competency inthe area of inquiry.

Session 5 was “Participant activity and output” by Dr. Manawa Diwekarencompassing a group activity on concept mapping and alignment with yourcurriculum and an overwhelming response was received from the participants. Atthe end of the day Reflection on all the daylong sessions was taken by theparticipants.

Day 2: 18th Nov 2022

The day started with the “Review of Day 1 Activities and Assignments” by Dr. AsimAuti, followed by break-out session which was subject-specific.The breakout session for Life Sciences was conducted by Dr. Manawa Diwekar,IISER, Pune, Dr. Megha Bhambri, DRBSMV, Nagpur, and Dr. Ragini Marganwar,DRBSMV, Nagpur. In this session, the inquiry-based learning process was explained to the participants with the help of simple and easy experiments. The firstexperiment was to measure the “Volume of a drop” followed by a discussion withparticipants. Next was an introduction to Stomatal practical inquiry in which participants stepped out to collect the leaves to test their respective hypotheses.

Participants experimented to measure the stomatal density and collection of data was done. This was followed by discussion, analysis of the data, and reflection. Participants were given the task to design their inquiry-based labs using the template.

The breakout session for chemistry was conducted by Prof. Malika Pathak from Miranda House, University of Delhi, Delhi, Ms. Sugandha Negi, IISER, Pune, and Ms. Babita Yadao, DRBSMV. Simple experiments viz. Double Displacement Reaction and Blue bottle experiments were carried out with participants through Inquiry Learning Process.

The objective of the session was to provide a subject-specific learning environment in a more comfortable space so that the exchange of ideas and learning can be easy. All the participants endorsed themselves in performing the experiments with the new exceptional thought process and come up with many queries which were discussed and solved by the trainers through an inquiry process. The session ended with a discussion about the lesson plan and assignment for the same.

The breakout session for Physics was conducted by Dr. Jasmine Duggal, IISER, Pune, and Dr. Arti Golhar, DRBSMV, Nagpur. Participants performed simple experiments like the Determination of the volume of a drop, the Determination of the speed of sound, Refractive index of a liquid through an inquiry-based learning process. Trainers showed participants stationary waves through easily available resources. After the session participants come up with new ideas for inquiry-based experiments.

The mathematics breakout session was taken by Dr. Aloka Kanhere, HBCSE, Mumbai, and Dr. Rupali Wanjari, DRBSMV, Nagpur. In this session, inquiry-based graph modeling problems were assessed. The participants engaged in solving tasks, arriving at solutions & peer discussing solutions pointed out the requirements of resources & tools. This was addressed by hands-on training in mathematical software Geogebra. The participant noticed the effective use of Geogebra to support teaching and learning mathematics subjects, especially in geometry, Algebra, and statistics.

In the post-hands-on session, Dr. Asim Auti and Dr. Manawa Diwekar discussed types of formative assessments, designing your own innovative formative and summative assessments in the session named “Assessments II: Strategies”. At the end of the day review all the day-long sessions taken by the participants.

Day 3: 19th Nov 2022

The day started with the “Review of Day 2 Activities and Assignments” by Dr. Asim Auti, group activity of designing & presenting of Concept Map was conducted. Around 16 clubbed groups presented their assignment enthusiastically. The presentations were treated as case studies by peers and were marked with a critical view.

The last session was taken by Dr. Mallika Pathak on Setting SMART Targets (Action planning). She briefed how to prepare an action plan for adopting new innovative effective teaching at the HEI level. During this session, she explained the significance of smart targets in which S stands for specific, M for measurable, A for attainable, R for relevant, and T for time-bound. Not only this she has also given tips on how to make smart targets, smarter in which E will stand to evaluate and R to re-evaluate. In her session, she discussed blockers for implementation and also suggested enablers for achieving the goals of empowering the students.

We celebrate National Science Day in India on 28th February every year to remember the discovery of the Raman Effect by Sir Chandrasekhara Venkata Raman, an Indian physicist, on 28th February 1928. This discovery was a breakthrough in the field of science and won Raman the Nobel Prize in Physics in 1930.

The National Council for Science and Technology Communication (NCSTC) requested the Central Government to designate 28 February as the National Science Day (NSD) in 1986. National Science Day was first celebrated in India in 1987, and since then it has been celebrated every year with the aim of promoting scientific temper and encouraging scientific innovations in the country. It was done with a view to honor not just the achievements of Sir C.V Raman.

The theme for National Science Day, 2023 is 'Global Science for Global Wellbeing'.

On this occasion of National Science Day, DRB Sindhu Mahavidyalaya, Nagpur conducted two days event on dated 27th & 28th February respectively. A scientific talk was organized on 27th February 2023 along with Scientific Innovative working Model making competition and Poster Making competition. On 28th February, the Power point presentation was organized. The program was inaugurated at 11.00 am by the Hand's of the Chief Guest Dr. Asefa Quereshi maam, Principal Scientist, Environmental Biotechnology and Genomics
