Scientific talk on Research in Life sciences

Topic:- “Central Regulation of Reproduction in Mammals”

Key note speaker:- Dr. Praful Singru, NISER, Bhubaneswar

Date: 19th October 2022

Venue: Botany Laboratory

Department of Zoology and Research and Development cell has organized a scientific talk for Post graduate and under graduate students to facilitate the new research horizon and to inculcate research temperament. Dr. Praful Singru, Associate professor, Biological Sciences, NISER, Bhubaneswar has delivered a talk on “Central regulation of reproduction in Mammals” on 19th October 2022. He has enlightened the students with basic concept of hormonal and neuropeptide regulation during reproductive phases in mammals and throw a focus on preoptic area and GnRH neuron working processes. He has carried regulation methods and observed that in contrast to mammals, birds have higher basal metabolic rate and undertake wide range of energy-demanding activities. As a consequence, food deprivation to birds, even for a short-period, poses major energy challenge. The energy-regulating hypothalamic homeostatic mechanisms, although extensively studied in mammals, are far from clear in the case of birds. We focus on the interplay between neuropeptide Y (NPY) and thyrotropin-releasing hormone (TRH), two of the most important hypothalamic signaling agents, in modulating the energy balance in a bird model, zebra finch, Taeniopygia guttata. TRH neurons were confined to a few nuclei in the preoptic area and hypothalamus, and fibers widely distributed. Majority of TRH neurons in the hypothalamic paraventricular nucleus (PVN) whose axons terminate in median eminence were contacted by NPY-containing axons. Dr. Yogesh Bhute was introduce and welcome Dr. Singru. About 72 students of PG and UG were preset for this lecture.

Mr. Tanvir Mirza initiated the talk by stating that entrepreneurs do not just build businesses and grow their personal wealth; they also impact the economy by creating new jobs and opportunities, driving innovation, and developing new markets, products, and services.

Mr. Mirza shared that he works towards aiming to empower rural youth for entrepreneurship. His organisation is engaged in the process of enhancing the entrepreneurial knowledge and skills via structured training programmes. It deals with the study of entrepreneurial behaviour, dynamics of business, and its development and expansion. The objectives of these entrepreneurship development programmes are to increase the knowledge and skill of existing entrepreneurs and encourage others to become one. Ultimately, it helps in increasing the number of such individuals in an economy.

Mr. Mirza also shared that entrepreneur development programs also focuses on training individuals who are interested in commencing their venture or expanding their existing one. Furthermore, it concentrates more on encouraging innovation and evaluating the growth potential of an enterprise. This development process helps new firms to perform better and achieve their goals and expand their businesses. As a result, the economy of a nation also improves. Moreover, it enables entrepreneurs to develop and manage their business better along with the financial insecurities associated with it.
