PROJECT SRUJAN

On the occasion of the birth anniversary of Dr. Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan, "Teachers Day" was celebrated with great enthusiasm in the College Auditorium of Dada Ramchand Bakhru Sindhu Mahavidyalaya on 5th September 2021. Prominently present on the occasion were Shri H.R Bakhru President, Sindhi Hindi Vidya Samiti, Dr. VinkyRughwani Chairman, Mr. Vinod Massand Vice-President, Mr. Mohan Jotwani Treasurer, Mr. Niraj Bakhru Secretary College Affairs, Mr. I R Balani Secretary, Mr. Pankaj Rughwani Secretary, Principal of the college Dr. V.M Pendsey, Vice-Principals Dr. S.V Tewani, Dr. A.G Thadani, Dr. Milind Shinkhede, and Mr. Manoj Yenpendiwar.

Extension Activity Cell and Rotaract Club, Dada Ramchand Bakhru Sindhu Mahavidyalaya organized Project Srujan. The objective of Project Srujan was to recover old clothing for sorting and processing. Cloth recycling is a potentially beneficial activity from environmental, social, and economic points of view, as opposed to landfilling or being used for energy. As cities increasingly divert other high-volume waste streams such as organics, the recycling of old clothes has been called the next frontier for cities looking to reduce solid waste.

Extension Activity Cell of the college arranged an exhibition of handmade items made from old clothes on the occasion. About 20 mats, 10 blankets, 10 pillow covers, 10 cushion covers, 10 purses, and pouches were made by students and arranged for display. Also included in the exhibition were vermicompost and food items like chocolates and cakes made by students. The exhibition was inaugurated at the hands of honorable dignitaries. The Coordinator of the exhibition was Dr. Pinky Sonarghare. Extension Cell Members Dr. Sunil Dahire, Dr. Sandeep Hate, Dr. Kharkhate, Dr. G Ramchandra Rao, Dr. Damini Motwani, Dr. Suman Keswani, Dr. Prachi Lambat, Dr. Nakhtode, Mrs. Babita Yadav worked hard for the success of the event. The idea for the exhibition was conceptualized by Dr. Suman Keswani. The funds generated from the exhibition were kept aside to be used for some charity purpose.

Extension Activity Cell, Dada Ramchand Bakhru Sindhu Mahavidyalaya organized “Joy of Giving” program at “Vidarbha Premier Sahanivas” Society week from 8th to 9th October 2022. In this event members of society donate money and clothes and participated in this noble cause. Goonj is turning discarded & underutilized material of cities into a tool to bring ignored issues to light & convert them into resources for rural development. Cloth Materials donated by members of the society were transferred to the Centre of Goonj for further processing. All the activities were conducted under the able guidance of Mr. A. Mundhada. All the activities were monitored by Dr. Milind Shinkhede, Dr. P. Sonarghare, and Dr. Sandeep Hate.

COMPUTER DONATION AT ORPHANGE

Rotaract Club of the college carried out an activity Arpan in which a computer was donated to Jeevan Ashray hope and care center, Rani Durgawati Chowk on 29/08/2021. The aim was to support Basic Education and Literacy one of the 7 focus areas of Rotary. The funds were raised through sponsorship and online donations.

4 members of the club went to the orphanage for the donation and also trained the children how to operate the computer. This is the second computer donated to the same orphanage within a year as the orphanage has about 40 inmates, and a single computer was insufficient for them.

The Rotractors also explained the importance of sports and physical fitness to the kids as 29th Aug is celebrated as National Sports Day the birth anniversary of renowned hockey player Major Dhyanchand.

The project was carried out under the supervision of Rt Swapnil Band Director Youth Services as well as Dr Suman Keswani Teacher Coordinator and Co-coordinators Dr Reema Kamrani and Dr Damini Motwani. Rotractors Tejaswini Parteki (President), Minita Mishra, Kamal Dhariwal, Shashank Chandankhede, Piyusha Dupare, Sonali Pal, Aditya Hajare, Tanu Bose worked hard for the project.

About the Institute

As the premier national institute focusing its work in disaster mitigation and management, the National Institute of Disaster Management (NIDM) came into existence on 16th October 2003, through a Government of India. The said order upgraded the National Centre for Disaster Management (NCDM), which was established by the Ministry of Agriculture, Department of Agriculture and Cooperation, Government of India, in March 1995. The NIDM functions under the Ministry of Home Affairs. It primarily works as a think for the Government of India, providing assistance in disaster-related policy formulation.

Officiating Principal
Dada Ramchand Bakhru
Sindhu Mahavidyalaya, Nagpur-47

Genesis and Function

Donning the motto- Resilient India, Disaster Free India, the following are the significant aims of the NIDM:

- To work as consulting agency for the Government by providing assistance in policy formulation; and
- To facilitate in reducing the impact of disasters through its technological innovations

In order to realize these aims, the NIDM functions with the following objectives in focus:

1. To undertake quality research covering both natural and human induced disasters, with a multi-hazard approach
2. To work as a national resource center for the Central and State Governments in the country, through effective knowledge management and sharing of best practices.
3. To professionalize disaster risk reduction (DRR) and emergency management in India and other neighbouring countries by developing an independent cadre of professionally trained emergency and mitigation managers.
4. To promote formal training and education for Disaster Management in India and in the region.
5. To build working partnerships with the Government, universities, NGOs, corporate bodies and other national and international institutes of eminence.
6. To link learning and action by building a synergy between institutions and professionals in the sector.

Officiating Principal
Dada Ramchand Bakhru
Sindhu Mahavidyalaya, Nagpur-47

Brochure:

Basics of Disaster Management elaborates the need for understanding the concept of disaster and how people can prepare and manage disasters at micro and macro level, focusing more on people's participation Both at urban and rural level.

Disaster Management deals with management of assets and information for a disastrous occurrence is concerned and also how effectively and impeccably one coordinates and mitigates these calamities. Disaster management, at the institutional arrangements level, deals with issues of planning, coordinating, communication and hazard management.

Traditionally, even in the legal framework, the meaning of disaster has been taken narrowly. Enforcement of Public Safety Regulations is not effective. Low income and Poverty creates problems in matters of preparedness. Professional skills for field machinery in matters of disaster management still lack.

Disaster management aims to reduce, or avoid, the potential losses from hazards, assure prompt and appropriate assistance to victims of disaster, and achieve rapid and effective recovery. Disaster Risk Management includes sum total of all activities, programmes and measures which can be taken up before, during and after a disaster with the purpose to avoid a disaster, reduce its impact or recover from its losses

Much of the gap exists between disaster research and community capacity building. There are instances of policy makers lacking the Disaster Management experience. Potential of ex-servicemen available between countries is not used well. International or bilateral cooperation in Disaster management is not up to the mark.

Objectives of the webinar:

- To understand the concept of Disasters and the causes and consequences
- Develop skills to analyze factors contributing to Disasters.
- Develop skills to respond and participate in Disaster management.
- To provide training on First aid and disaster management techniques
- To explore the possibilities of private and non-government organization's role in this area
- To find out the role of new management policies and advanced technology in this regard to make a healthy society.

Speakers:

Shri Shekher Chaturvedi (Assistant Professor, NIDM) shared a presentation on Institutional Framework. Sir spoke on Disaster Management Act on grounds of institutional, legal, financial and coordination mechanisms at the National, State, District and Local levels. These institutions are not parallel structures and will work in close harmony. The new institutional framework is expected to usher in a paradigm shift in DM from a relief-centric approach to a proactive regime that lays greater emphasis on preparedness, prevention and mitigation. The NIDM, in partnership with other research institutions, has capacity development as one of its major responsibilities, along with training, research, documentation and development of a National level information base. It will network with other knowledge-based institutions and function within the broad policies and guidelines laid down by the NDMA. It will organise training of trainers, DM officials and other stakeholders. The NIDM will strive to emerge as a 'Centre of Excellence' in the field of Disaster Management.

Dr. Sushma Guleria (Assistant Professor, NIDM) shared details on the basics of Disaster Management. With the help of a few figures and photographs, she explained the physical vulnerabilities of different types of buildings. She brought to light the problems that concern a system which need to be improved upon while implementing DRM, especially while planning CBDRM. Her presentation informed the participants of the officially recognized disasters by the High Powered Commission (HPC). She rightly emphasized on the need of looking and understanding the different institutional set-ups of DRM. In context of CBDRM and institutional implementation of the same, Dr. Guleria spoke about the requirement of local-level planning via the Gram Panchayat Development Plans which talk about the integration of Disaster Management in development planning.

Aradhna Muktan (YP,NIDM) lectured on Mitigating Risk and Awareness and shared a case study on Mendha Lekha Village on Forest Rights Act. She shared how major disasters such as earthquakes, landslides, storms, cyclone floods have something very unique, it offers a unique chance for settlement to turn their disaster vulnerability into disaster Resilience. Thus risk reduction and mitigation measures should be integral or prime parts for Raising of public awareness, bringing changes in structural and non-structural risk reduction elements, and the need to educate the public concerning their own behavior. Risk reduction also needs to be mainstreamed into the central flow of government policies and planning and whenever we talk about planning and policy making the role of communities and its participation plays a very important role.

Key Takeaways:

- There is an important practical application of the definition of disaster in the realm of disaster management. Such definition helps provide a common concept and theme throughout disaster management activities. Thus, the chosen definition is valuable for purposes of policy, organization, planning, and legislation.
- Natural phenomena such as earthquakes, cyclones, volcanic eruptions, tsunamis, wildfires, floods, landslides, and drought still persist. So, does their basic man-made counterparts such as major accidents. These disasters continue to cause grievous human casualties, economic and social loss, and damage to the environment.
- The primary responsibility for dealing with disasters must rest with the national government. In addition, an important disaster management concept is to ensure optimum use of existing resources, the majority of which tend to be under government direction.
- Awareness of the youth on the importance of skill training and education and strategy to be adopted would be through skit, group work interventions. Mobilizing and networking with NGOs and government sectors to enhance their quality of life through various skill training programmes.
- In framing a national disaster management policy, these organizational aspects must be carefully considered and included in the relevant policy statement. In this regard, it is usually prudent to frame the policy so that minor adjustments to organizational arrangements can be made without having to amend the policy itself.
- Any disaster management organization must therefore cater to appropriate community involvement and participation. This applies particularly to relevant aspects of preparedness, response, and recovery action. In fact, in framing and/or checking organizational effectiveness, it is advisable to consider requirements at community level first.
- Strengthening young people's capacities to be effective humanitarian actors, and support local youth-led initiatives and organizations in humanitarian response. Increasing resources to address the needs and priorities of adolescents and youth affected by humanitarian crises and use the new gender and age marker for better tracking and reporting.

Workshop Report

1. Name of the Programme – Physical and Mental Health of Children in Covid-19

2. Date and Time: Date: 20th July 2021; Time: 10:30 am to 1:00 pm

3. Brochure & Banner: Attached

4. No. of Participants: 620

5. Background:

Pandemics have a severe impact on physical and mental health of children. It has also been directly and indirectly exposed to children and their families. The direct and indirect factors have created stress and emotional disturbance among children and their families. The mental health of millions of children worldwide has been put at risk, with at least one in seven forced to remain at home under nationwide public health orders or recommendations during the COVID-19 pandemic. More than 330 million youngsters have been stuck at home, till March 2021, for at least nine months, since the virus spread uncontrollably last year. During the pandemic, many parents and caregivers were forced to work from home and lost their financial independence due to job losses. The pandemic brought a complex array of challenges which had mental health repercussions for everyone, including children and adolescents. Grief, fear, uncertainty, social isolation, increased screen time, and parental fatigue have negatively affected the mental health of children. Friendships and family support are strong stabilizing forces for children, but the COVID-19 pandemic has also disrupted them. The pandemic has created fear among children and they are also felt physical and mental stress due to job losses of their parents because most of the parents are unable to feed their children, as many of them were dependent on midday meal school programmed. It has become difficult for parents to calm their children's anxieties because of the uncertainty and stress in their own lives. The occupational or emotional challenges parents face is interfering with their usual ability to address their children's needs and worries. Children especially of rural and migrant labourers have been severely affected during pandemics. School closures have also exacerbated their physical and mental health of children, reinforced to transform into online /digital mode of learning. It is not unusual for children to experience negative emotions such as fear, disappointment, sadness, anxiety, anger, loss etc. But it is the prolonged, restrictive, and widespread nature of the COVID-19 pandemic that has exacerbated the situation. Increased screen time, strained family relations or sedentary lifestyle at home pose additional challenges.(SourceUNICEF).Education and learnings of 67.6% of students are impacted globally due to coronavirus in 143 countries. The transition away from physical classes has significantly disrupted the lives of students and their families, posing a potential risk to the mental well-being of children. The pandemic leaves a negative impact on children's mental health, and can lead to higher rates of depression, anxiety, and post-traumatic stress disorder. This causes fear in children because the virus threatens not just them but also their families and surroundings, especially as they see their parents working from home, leading to fear and shock.An abrupt change in the learning environment and limited social interactions and activities poses an unusual situation for children's developing brains. It is essential for the scientific community and healthcare workers to assess and analyze the psychological impact caused by the coronavirus pandemic on children and adolescents, as several mental health disorders begin during childhood. This needs to identify the risk factors to mental health and propose possible solutions to avoid the detrimental consequence of this crisis on the psychology of our future adult generations.(Shah Kaushal et al 2020)

6. Objectives

- To highlight physical and mental health issues of children in times of pandemic.
- To analyze the psychological impact caused by pandemic on children and adolescents, as several mental health disorders
- To identify the risk factors to mental health and find out possible solutions to avoid the detrimental consequence of this crisis on the psychology of our future adult generations

7. Eminent Experts:

- Dr.VinkyRughwani,Vice President, Maharashtra Medical Council, Government of Maharashtra
- Shri Niraj Agarwal,Senior Art of Living Faculty & Renowned Motivational,Speaker,(Maharashtra)

8. Key Takeaways

- To be calm and proactive in your conversations with children check in with them to see how they are doing.
- To engage children in creative activities, such as playing and drawing, to help them express and communicate any negative feelings and find positive ways to express difficult feelings such as anger, fear or sadness.

Officialing Principal
Dada Ramchand Bakhru
Sindhu Mahavidyalaya, Nagpur-47

- To encourage Children and adolescents to talk about their feelings and reach out to a trusted friend or family member.
- To support early intervention for preventing long term mental health consequences from pandemic.
- To detect and deal with early signs of mental health problems among children as they are the first to notice changes in child's emotions or behaviour.
- To notice a sudden significant difference in their child's behaviour for more than a week and provide them professional clinical help.
- To create an environment of positivity at home to try to make children feel happy and relax.
- To investigate and identify the risk factors to mental health and propose possible solutions to avoid the detrimental consequence of this crisis on the psychology of our future adult generations.
- To protect and guard the mental health of children consistently through open communication and facilitate professional counseling to address stressors.
- Need to give additional attention to the children those who are more susceptible to the mental health crisis through a collaborative approach by involving their parents, educators, school administrators, counselors, psychologists, and psychiatrists.
- To include physical exercise yoga and meditation in daily routine for reducing the mental stress.

BACKGROUND
Pandemics have a severe impact on physical and mental health of children. It is also how directly and indirectly exposed to children and their families. The direct and indirect factors like crowded areas and crowded gatherings among children and their families. The mental health of millions of children worldwide has been put at risk with or without it. Some factors to remain at home and avoid public places, social gathering, and other activities during the COVID-19 pandemic. More than 250 million 'lockdowns' have been started across the world since the start of the year. During the pandemic, they parents and caregivers were forced to work from home and to not that financial independence for many hours. The pandemic brought a complex array of challenges which led mental health repercussions for everyone, including children and adolescents. These repercussions include isolation, loss of social support and physical health. The pandemic affected the physical health of children. Financially and health support are among challenging factors for parents. The COVID-19 pandemic has affected many. The pandemic has impact on mental health and they are also felt physical and mental stress due to job losses of their parents. In this time of the pandemic, the children and their children, as many of them were dependent on military and social programs. It has become difficult for parents to take their children and stress because of the uncertainty and stress in their own lives. The consequences of pandemic that some parents face is identifying with their social ability to address their children's needs and wishes. Children especially of rural and tribal areas have been severely affected during pandemic. School closures have also impacted their physical and mental health of children, restricted to specific and online digital mode of learning. It is not unusual for children to experience negative emotions, such as fear, anger, disappointment, sadness, anxiety, shame, etc. There is the potential for negative and widespread impact of the COVID-19 pandemic due to the associated the situation. Increased screen time, reduced family activities to reduce physical and social distance, changes in daily routines and changes in 141 quarantine. It is expected that the scientific community will have to investigate the associated psychological, behavioral and educational, as well as mental health disorders among children. This workshop is being organized to address the physical and mental health of children and to provide the parents with the information to avoid the detrimental consequences of this crisis on the psychology of our child. (Author: Dr. Manish Bhat, 2021)

About National Institute of Disaster Management (NIDM)

NIDM, Ministry of Home Affairs, is a statutory body responsible for planning and promoting training and research in the area of disaster management, documentation and development of national level information base relating to disaster management policies, prevention mechanisms and mitigation measures. NIDM is thus required to design, develop and implement training programmes, undertake research, formulate and implement a comprehensive human resource development plan, provide assistance in national policy formulation, assist other research and training institutes, state governments and other organizations for successfully discharging their responsibilities, develop educational materials for dissemination and promote awareness among stakeholders in addition to undertake any other function as assigned to it by the Central Government. Thus, NIDM is envisioned to be a center of excellence and learning in the field of disaster management. NIDM works towards effective implementation of disaster risk mitigation and management in India and also at a regional level by providing technical assistance for capacity building and developing disaster management systems and institutional framework in the sector.

Key areas of NIDM's involvement include:

Training: On campus and off-campus training programmes, workshops, conferences and seminars, training of trainers' programmes for officials at the national, state and district levels to prepare them to tackle natural disasters.

Research: Issues, concerns and lacunae in management of disaster events, lessons learnt from past disasters.

Documentation: Best practices in disaster management, impact of disasters, situational analysis of relief and response measures, creation of database, preparation and dissemination of awareness materials, IEC materials etc.

Context

India, due to its geographical location, is vulnerable to a variety of natural and man-made disasters that impact the growth of the country and various developmental activities also are put to stand still. Its impact includes vast destruction to infrastructure and it also leaves people in distress with shaken inner strength. This largely depends on the degree of dent which is created by the impact on one's life. Along with relief, rehabilitation and care of physical health and injuries, psycho-social and mental health issues are also important that needs to be addressed on priority.

The role of the university span through all phases of disaster cycle. Universities, by virtue of their placement and proximity to the society, are instrumental in contributing towards betterment of society. However, presently universities are involved majorly in academic contribution such as providing education and conducting research. Action research and social work are other major areas where universities and institutions of higher educations are involved. Their role in disaster management till now has been very limited. However, with the directions/ notification issued by University Grants Commission (UGC), universities and other higher educational institutions have been requested to take up disaster management courses as a separate discipline or mainstream it in running courses. Voluntary aids and contributory activities are part of university and other higher education institutions' regular activities.

Generally, students at University/college level are the capacities and at the same time vulnerable group also in all disasters. Universities have their role cut out in not only making the life of students convenient but also providing continuum in education during emergency times as well. Keeping the fact that institutions of higher education have to play a crucial role in continuation of education with added responsibility of disaster management education, NIDM conducted a National Webinar on Role of Higher Education in Disaster Risk Reduction in collaboration with Dada Ramchand Bakhru Sindhu Mahavidyalaya (DRBSMV), Nagpur Maharashtra on October 27, 2021 from 1100 hrs. to 1300 hrs.

Programme Objectives

Programme has been designed with following objectives:

1. To elaborate the role of higher education institutions in various phases of disaster
2. To apprise participants about utilizing the youth force in activities related to capacity building of community at large.
3. To explain the participants on process of mainstreaming disaster risk reduction in the higher education stream.

addressed the participants. He also thanked ED NIDM for collaborating with Sindhu Mahavidyalaya for deliberating upon such an important topic. Then Dr. I P Keswani, General Secretary, SHVS addressed the participants and shared his experiences. He congratulated the organising team of both the institutions for conducting webinar on involvement of institutions of higher education in DRR activities. Dr. V M Pendsey, Officiating Principal of Sindhu Mahavidyalaya also addressed the participants during the inaugural session. He said that the webinar has given many, a learning opportunity for making contributions in reducing the risk of disasters.

After the inaugural session, the technical session began with Shri Shekher Chaturvedi, Assistant Professor, NIDM making a presentation on Role of Higher Education in Disaster Risk reduction. During his presentation, Shri Chaturvedi, said that the New Education Policy 2020 has thrown open many dimensions about higher education such as flexibility in completing the courses, practical involvement during courses, Single point of governance of higher education management etc. He also explained the issues which will emerge when mainstreaming of DRR into higher education takes place. This will include extension of roles of faculty, provisions of new areas of research with less available data, lack of trained personnel etc. He also shared the roles which higher educational institutions will have to play through their administration, faculty and students. He also highlighted the initiatives taken by NIDM for mainstreaming DRR into Higher Educational Institutions through India Universities and Institutions Network for DRR under the Agenda 6 of Hon'ble PM's ten-point agenda for DRR.

The last session of the programme was focussed on building resilience and empathy through higher education. During this session, Dr. Sushma Guleria, Assistant Professor, NIDM discussed about problems pertaining to mental health, its well-being being faced by students, faculty and administration of the higher education. She said that such problems have been aggravated by the pandemic. Students are worried about their future, technical streams have been undergoing studies without being exposed to practicals, etc. faculties and administration also are short of replies to many queries of students related to their future. There has been huge impact on mental well-being of students with all this prevailing. She also talked about stress, PTSD and psychological trauma which is gaining its grounds in terms of its impact. She said that release of pressure is the best way to calm the needy and subsequent to this bringing him/her back to society with dignity helps him/her regain normalcy and start contributing to the society. She discussed various tools which can help in releasing pressure and regain normalcy.

The programme ended with valedictory address by Dr. V M Pendsey, Officiating Principal of Sindhu Mahavidyalaya. During his address, Dr. Pendsey reiterated the importance of the contents of the programme and thanked NIDM faculty for delivering the topics with ease of making understand. He thanked organising team for their contributions. Shri Arun Verma, Young Professional NIDM then presented a formal vote of thanks.

Key Takeaways:

1. Every stakeholder has a role to play for contributing for reducing the disaster risk.
2. Higher Education Institutions, being learning hub for future generations, must come forward to contribute in work of capacitating youth DRR related activities.
3. Faculty, as torch bearers, must guide youth for constructive contributions in the field of management of disasters.
4. Coordination in terms of research and awareness activities, with other stakeholders is must.
5. As the number of higher education institutions is large, their outreach is also large. Hence, they must take up responsibility to reach out to community for making them aware for DRR.
6. Higher Education Institutions must take up advocacy role for making DRR as actionable point in every stream.
7. They have a clear role of channelizing youth energy towards disaster risk reduction.
8. Higher education institutions have an advantage of having many streams under one roof, they can utilize this advantage for enhanced contributions for management of disasters.
9. Policy oriented research must be undertaken by such institutions.
10. Guiding and assisting other stakeholders for smooth disaster management must be agenda of higher education institutions.
